General Comment

Oh dear, already i believe i have surrendered to the crown all social security money i have ever paid in. I do not expect to ever see it. For you to take my IRA savings as well will render me a destitute peasant. if this is truly what you desire, it is to the mattresses or leave for less confiscatory countries. However, you will succeed through this policy of capturing a good deal of my saved income. Through this and other reckless policy initiatives you are prodding me to consume and not save anymore. A very subtle and clever stimulus package perhaps? better consume it now because we are taking it all later. This is ultimately a problem of course, for both capital formation and govt's own borrowing, but that is for tomorrow i suppose.
regards.
